+16 Isolated showers

Today's Daily Devotion will be given by Pastor Gretta Vosper from the West Hill United Church.

West Hill United Church has been an active supporter - as build volunteers, home donors and lunch providers.

Today's Goals

Start the construction of the second floor walls and aim to have finished by end of day.

Move the completed roofs over to homes with completed walls.

Meet Today's Partner Family

Fahim Sultana Rigi and her husband Emad Hussain, along with their two children, struggle to live in a tiny two-bedroom apartment in Toronto. They've been living in a small co-op housing unit since 2000, and doesn't give their family the space and peaceful environment for their children to grow, play and learn.

They believe moving into their new three-bedroom home will change their future. Their new home will be the centre of their activities, their lives and will finally fulfil their dream of being homeowners.

What's in your lunchbox?

Lunch was generously donated by Guildwood Presbyterian.

Also starting this lunchbreak - Lululemon will be on site to give those muscles a well deserved stretch.

Now we're Cookin'

Montana's Cookhouse has generously donated snappy toolbelts for volunteers, to make your load a little lighter - and stylish!

Star Sponsor Stories

UPS Since 1907, UPS has built a legacy as a caring and responsible corporate citizen. Through its Women's Leadership Development program, 50 female UPS employees will be lending their support to the Women's Build to continue their tradition of volunteerism and community support.

Women in Construction This dynamic group of women in the construction industry took the initiative to raise funds for Habitat, and awareness for women in the skilled trades through the Habitat Toronto Women Build. They surpassed their goal and will be a welcomed force of skilled professionals.

U of T Faculty of Engineering Students Many U of T students are actively involved with Habitat Toronto year-round. Faculty of Engineering students will be specifically involved in a student-led fundraising campaign to sponsor a home at 1500 Weston Road.

Special thanks to Havergal College.
